Good luck always,
Patsy

Dear Bonnie -
I have always thought you were one of the nicest girls in the class and this year was no exception.
Good luck and all that ~~stuff~~
stuff - not that you need it.
See you next year I hope.
Love Sid

Dear Bonnie,
I'll be the first one
to class, tho' it's highly unlikely with
a speed champion
like you to compete with. You're such
a neat kid tho',
that I don't mind
losing to you.
Lots of luck
Carol

haven't gotten to know you
well, I think you are a wonderful person. If you ever have time for me over the summer, call me and we'll do supper. (HA 1-21-25)

THE WINCHESTER-THURSTON SCHOOL

FOREWORD

As we arrive at the end of our senior year, we begin to appreciate fully what our education means to us. At this moment of our lives, we are strong, confident, and determined not be disillusioned or led astray. We know who we are and where we want to go; we have limitless hope for the future. We are happier than we have ever been before. Being close to our very early childhood, we can recognize the fallacy of the general concept that those were our happiest years. We know that this is true only in the sense that those were the years when it took the most effort on the part of our teachers and parents to make us happy. Our education at Winchester has so greatly broadened our horizons and deepened our capacity to understand and therefore to appreciate that we now enjoy not only instinctively, as we did when we were younger, but also intellectually. It is much easier to please us now that we have been taught about the multitude of pleasing things in the world. In this yearbook, we wish to depict, through the inherent truth of great art, this process of growth into perceptive, appreciative young women.

J. K. C.

DEDICATION

She has been more than a teacher; she has been a friend dear to us for her quick wit, her loyalty and devotion to the interests of the school, and her enthusiasm and genuine concern for each of her pupils. These qualities have instilled in us a deepening pride in our individual achievements and in our achievements as a part of the school. She has rejoiced in our victories, and through words of encouragement and inspiration she has consoled us in our defeats. By her cheerful and patient attitude, she has taught us the art of good sportsmanship as well as the skill and grace needed in the performance of the established sports and the exciting new activities she has promoted and developed at Winchester. With sincere gratitude the class of 1959 dedicates the Thistledown to Mrs. Louis O. Caputo.

THISTLEDOWN STAFF

We of the Thistledown staff would like to express our deep appreciation to Mrs. Hutson for her invaluable assistance and encouragement. We would also like to thank our class for its patience and cooperation.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The officers of each class in the Upper School, elected for the outstanding qualities of leadership, responsibility, and integrity, represent their fellow pupils in the Student Council of Winchester-Thurston. The girls meet with Miss Philput under whose wise and gentle guidance they recognize and discuss honestly various problems which arise throughout the school year. By solving these problems, the Student Council deepens our respect for the strength and soundness of the Winchester-Thurston ideals of self-government and calm, reasonable judgment.

All knowledge is vain save when there is work, and all work is empty save when there is love.

As a salute to the Bicentennial Program in Pittsburgh, the music theme for the year at Winchester-Thurston was "Our Pittsburgh Heritage." The Special Glee Club sang a French a cappella number at the Bicentennial Program of the United We Sing Carol Festival at Carnegie Music Hall in December. The Glee Club participated in two combined concerts with the Kiski Glee Club. The latter, given in the spring at Winchester-Thurston, was attended by parents, friends, and several Pittsburgh composers whose works were performed at the concert. It is impossible for the Glee Clubs to express their full appreciation to their Director, Mrs. Selma B. Kress, who has devoted limitless time and effort on their behalf.

MRS. BODNAR

Paris has her left bank, New York her Washington Square, but Winchester-Thurston—ah!—she has her Art Club. Under the direction of Mrs. Victor Bodnar, the artists of Winchester create their masterpieces which can be viewed on the club's bulletin board. For the first time, the Art Club has become so large that it has become necessary to divide it into two groups so that the girls may have more room to work on their various projects. This past year they did pen and ink drawings, portraits, linoleum blocks, mosaics, and creative embroidery.

SENIOR DRAMA CLUB

Why do we join Drama Club? To develop poise and the ability to speak well before a group, as well as to learn the time-honored art of acting and the more recent arts of production, lighting, direction, and costuming. Even more meaningful are the companionship and good fun of rehearsals and the sense of accomplishment of the performance. To these ends, we worked on the delivery of speeches, stagecraft, and pantomimes; we gave a Christmas program and a Spring production, and we also co-operated with Shady Side's Gargoyle Society in their production of Peter Ustinov's The Empty Chair. Under the able direction of Mrs. Arthur Wilmurt, we have enjoyed ourselves in realizing our aims.

RESIDENCE

The residence girls of Winchester-Thurston are privileged to have Miss Edythe T. Bussey as their new Dean of Residence. Under her guidance, they combine study with recreation in a pleasant, informal atmosphere.

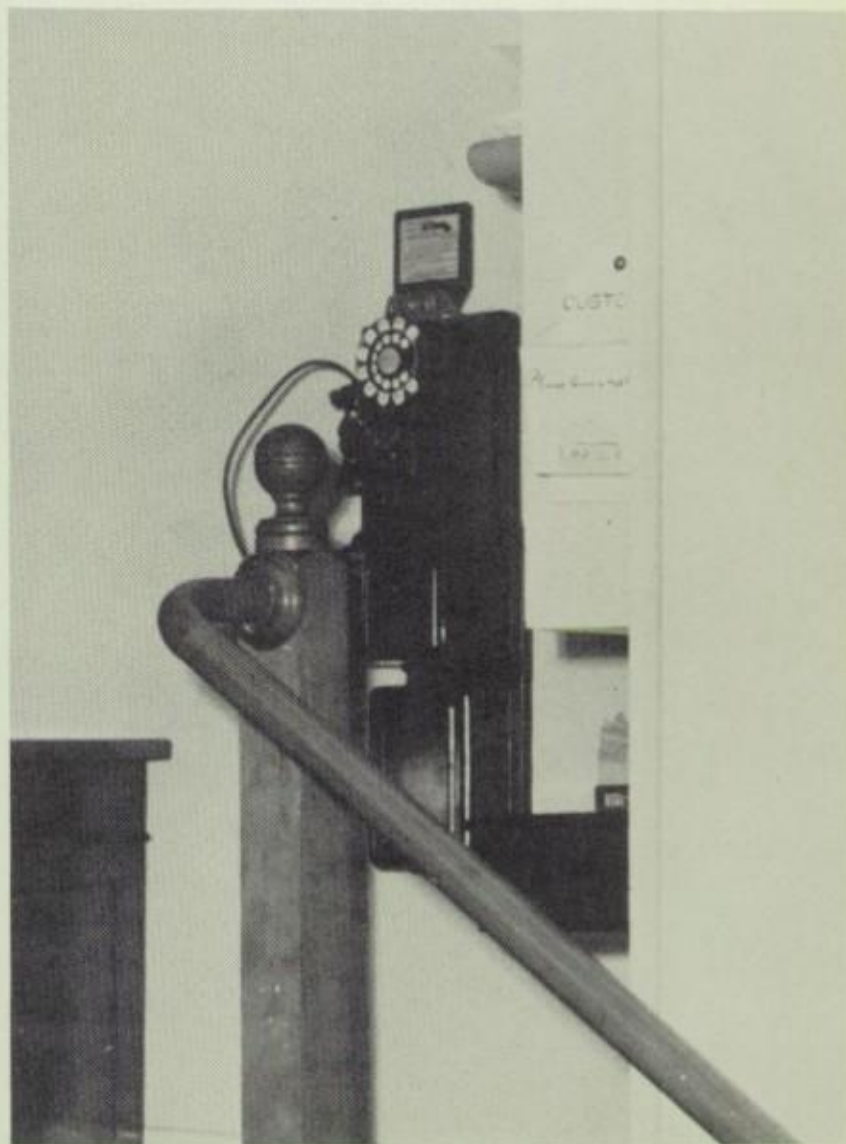

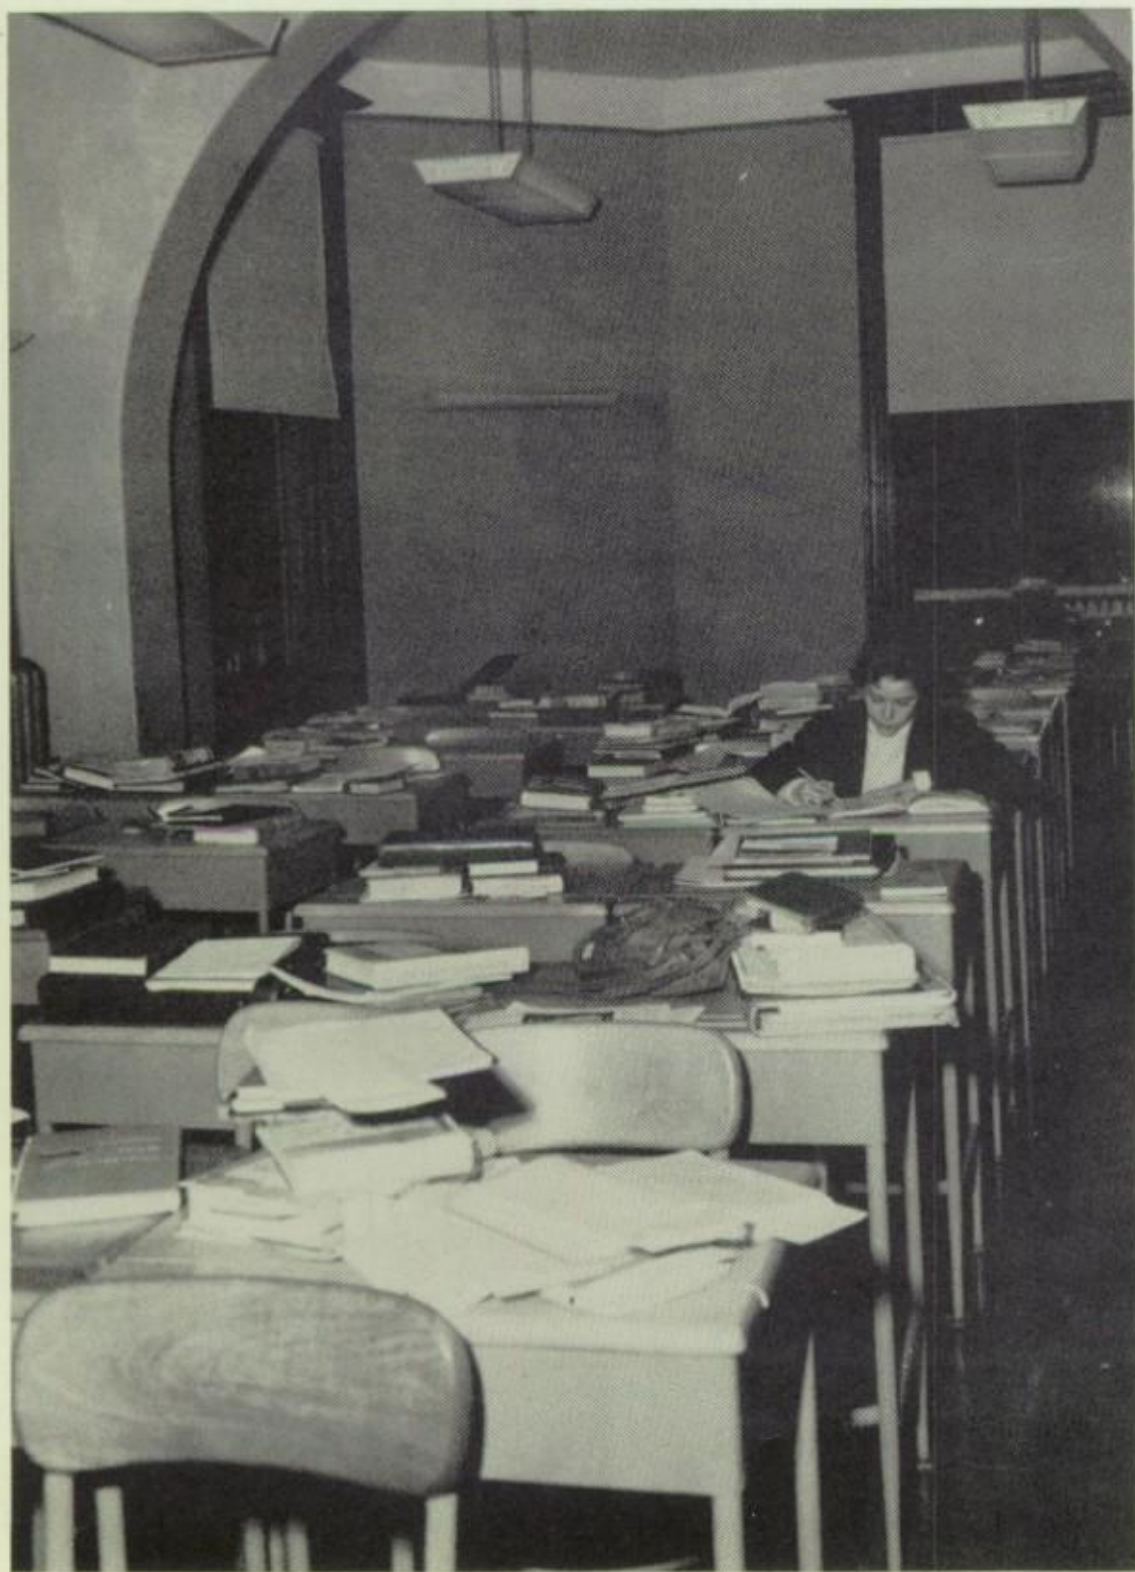

"The appearance of things changes according to the emotions, and thus we see magic and beauty in them . . ."

KAHLIL GIBRAN

We were four in that small kindergarten in 1945, four, who fourteen years later would carry yellow roses and twining green ivy. This thought, however, was not foremost in our minds as we watched arrogant First Graders filing past our door. We, too, became First Graders and with our several new friends began the trudge through the Lower School. Our goal was now to be sophisticated Seventh Graders, and our glances were directed up toward them. As new girls joined us in each successive year, our class soon reached its goal and acted the role of Lower School Seniors. For a brief moment, we looked down upon those younger and upon the happy experiences of those years, but were soon moved off to the Upper School, dethroned from our citadel into what seemed to us the lowly position of Eighth Graders. Once again, our heads were raised, and our eyes were filled with admiration for the Seniors. We watched them as they came into study hall, admired their courage as they made numerous complicated announcements, respected their authority, enjoyed their clever advertisements, envied their cars, and stared at them, though we tried not to, as they sat studying on the steps during the warm Spring afternoons while we were being put through the grueling paces of an afternoon gym class. Suddenly it is June, 1959. We realize that we have completed our life at Winchester. Once again, as in the Seventh Grade, rather than look ahead toward the unknown, we prefer to focus our attention upon the past. In our Senior year, problems depressed us, their solutions elated us, and the experience gained in effecting these solutions increased our understanding of democratic principles and of human relationships. Just as important, however, has been the growth of our class, for by sharing our common problems, we have become a single, strongly united body. In attaining this unity, we have reached our final goal at Winchester-Thurston and must now depart. We hesitate, but realizing that Winchester will remain a part of us forever, we are sincerely happy to be able to say in a clear, unified voice, "Farewell."

Bonnie,

To my very best friend ever since the first grade. Never forget all the wonderful
fun. We have had good times and bad times but I guess we will always be best of friends. We always laugh at the oddest
of things: a car with no
driver; a car going a mile
an hour; a pony tail a little bit too much to the left; most indubitably; and many other happenings. I hope we are friends forever and ever.
Lots of luck with Bobby and I hope we will always stay together and have a ball.

Neen. 59

I can't promise!
I am very sorry
will not be in your
Latin class next year.
I wish you the best
of luck. Love,
Dorothy
